- 1 Q. What's, now hold on, I don't understand what you just said. Run that by me
2 again.
3 A. When I left my parents' house last night...
4 Q. Oh, okay, okay, I'm with you.
5 A. I called friends to see if they found anything out, if they knew anything about 6 anything of gang related, people want money, people wanted someone dead, if
7 they knew anything that involved three men with a red van in Pensacola, Florida.
8 So I've, I've been trying to do this on my own, trying to figure out what's going 9 on.
10 Q. Well, that's what we're saying and it's not working out too well for you, is it?
11 A. All, all I got so far from my friend is that it's three men from Colorado.
12 Q. Who told you that?
13 A. One of my friends from Colorado. He has, he has a rat that's part of a gang. He 14 said there was a hit somewhere in Florida that fit the description that I gave him.
15 T. Well why would a gang come after, after your mom and dad?
16 A. I don't know.
17 T. How would a gang know where your mom and dad lived?
18 A. That's what I, that's...
19 T. Bullshit, Justin. Justin, that's not gonna fly.
20 A. That's the truth cause I called my friend, Walter Brown, who lives in Colored 21 Springs. He has friends that are gang members in Colorado. I....

- 1 Q. What would make you call somebody in Colorado?
2 A. Because he has gang members all over the United States.
3 Q. Why would somebody come from Colorado to kill your daddy and your mamma?
4 A. I, I'm just going on...
5 Q. Work with us here.
6 A. I'm just going on with what people know.
7 Q. Your dad sell drugs?
8 A. I don't know. I don't know what my dad did in his younger years before I was 9 adopted?
10 Q. Well that wouldn't have nothing to do with his younger years. What does your 11 dad do right now?
